Mrs Michele Nott
Headteacher

I am delighted that you are taking the time to consider applying for a position at our very special school.

Nether Edge School is an over-subscribed 2-form entry multi-cultural primary and nursery school that really is at the heart of its community. Our school is very effective and always extremely focused on continuous improvement.

We want every child at Nether Edge to flourish: to be safe, happy and healthy, to achieve across all subjects, to play a positive part in their school and wider community and to be excited and engaged in their learning. We call this the SHAPE of our school.

Through a wide range of learning opportunities, we want children to leave our school engaged and confident learners with a variety of skills that ensure they have options for successful futures. Our curriculum is firmly rooted in our local community. Our curriculum intent is clear and its design is based on research evidence and our trust curriculum principles.

Nether Edge Primary is a warm and welcoming place, where children and adults feel happy and safe. Relationships are at the heart of what we do. As a result, children are polite and show respect to each other and towards adults in school.

Children's behaviour is excellent. For example, children are polite because they know that 'Manners Matter.' They know this because it is deliberately taught and reinforced and children understand the importance of it. From day one, all interactions are nurtured so that children have respect for themselves, others and the environment.

The wider personal development curriculum is a strength at our school.

Firm foundations for children's personal development and achievement begin in nursery. The power of storytelling is central to our curriculum and personal development offer throughout school.

We are determined and committed to the continuous improvement of all the staff team. The Nether Edge approach to professional development is purposeful and ambitious, embedded in a very special culture that permeates our school.

We look forward to welcoming you.

Mr Neil Miley
Chief Executive Officer

Mercia Learning Trust is a great trust with a clear mission, robust schools and effective central functions. We have a strong identity, a positive culture, and an effective model of operation.

Our scale and location enable us to function as a close-knit network and family of schools and professionals. While we are pleased with our current position, our trustees are ambitious for further development and improvement.

Our trust is focused on creating organisational health. This is rooted in ensuring there is clarity for all staff on our purpose. We achieve this through answering a series of simple questions that define our mission and how we will work together to achieve our mission.

The first question we answer is 'Why do we exist?'

Our answer to this question is simple, yet profound:

'To empower everyone in our communities, especially the most disadvantaged, to succeed.'

We know that education is the key to a better future for everyone in our communities. It opens doors to employment, improves health and gives young people a sense of purpose.

But for many pupils, there are barriers in their way. Our job, alongside families, is to remove those barriers and provide the support, challenge and guidance children need to achieve.

If we get it right for our pupils, we help to improve our local and national community for everyone.

The second question we answer, is 'How do we behave?'. This question defines the values we expect everyone in our community to display. These are:

Kindness - showing care and supporting one another

Integrity - doing the right thing and always putting children first

Diligence - overcoming obstacles and having no excuses

These three core values should permeate everything we do. They represent three key areas: how we behave and work with each other – we are kind; our moral compass – we show integrity; and our approach to our work – we are diligent.

We are proud that our schools are inclusive, warm, and welcoming places where all pupils feel happy and safe.

"our schools are inclusive, warm, and welcoming places"

They are schools where exceptional behaviour and kindness are the norm, and where pupils are diligent and succeed. They are also schools where staff are focused on the most vulnerable pupils, ensuring they are empowered to be successful.

The third question we answer is ‘What do we do?’. This might sound like a straightforward question, but it is important we are clear on our approach.

Academic Excellence - equipping every pupil with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed.

Cultural Capital - broadening horizons and providing experiences that enrich and inspire.

Character Development - developing resilience, empathy, integrity and other critical character traits, to prepare pupils for life beyond school.

Through these key areas, we make sure all children have the opportunity to lead successful and happy lives.

Our fourth question is ‘How will we succeed?’. This question defines the areas we all focus on, as a team, to make sure all our schools are successful.

"a culture of purposeful collaboration"

Firstly, we want a culture of excellence – high standards, shaped by clarity, not control.

To achieve this, our trust operates within a model we call ‘Aligned Autonomy’. This model recognises each school has its own context and community. We want schools to innovate and drive success for their pupils, but to also share what they develop with other schools. This helps to reduce workload and to improve the education of all our pupils.

Secondly, we promote a culture of purposeful collaboration.

We recognise our leaders and staff often face similar challenges, and we ask them to work together to find common and scalable solutions. However, we also don’t want to add unnecessary burden and workload, so only collaborate when the purpose is clear.

Finally, we want all our schools to have a strong academic focus, which means empowering all children through an exceptional curriculum.

"empowering all children through an exceptional curriculum"

Our academic focus is the cornerstone of our mission. By delivering an exceptional curriculum, we provide every child with the knowledge, skills, character development and cultural capital they need to succeed. This focus is about creating a love of learning that lasts a lifetime.

To achieve our mission, we employ a diverse and exceptional staff across the full range of teaching, non-teaching, and leadership roles.

We are acutely aware that our staff are our greatest asset. We cannot prosper as schools or a trust, and fulfil our mission for children, unless we can recruit, develop, promote, and retain the very best people.

We also understand the importance of attracting new entrants into teaching.

Therefore, we are a substantial provider of Initial Teacher Training and provide fantastic support for early career teachers.

We understand that working within schools is rewarding and fast moving, but also demanding.

We promote ethical leadership to ensure strong support and professional development, coupled with a commitment to wellbeing and maintaining a healthy work-life balance.

"our staff are our greatest asset"

Working for our trust also offers the opportunity to reside in the vibrant city of Sheffield, renowned for its sports, leisure, and cultural activities. Sheffield boasts more parks, open spaces, and trees than any other city in the UK. Additionally, the picturesque Peak District National Park borders the west of the city.

We welcome applications from those who subscribe to our mission and values, and in turn we commit to being a trust where staff can prosper, flourish and build their career.
